

prof. Dr. Metin Başaranođlu (Gastroenterologist and Hepatologist)

Bezmialem Vakıf University (BAVÜ) Gastroenterology Hepatology Department Lecturer

BAVÜ Institute of Gastroenterology Director Assist.

Member of the European Fatty Liver Working Group

Member of the American Liver Association

Member of the European Liver Association

Professor Başaranođlu received the title of Doctor of Medicine, İ. U. He completed his Internal Medicine Specialization and Gastroenterology Minor in Turkey after receiving from Istanbul Faculty of Medicine. Subsequently, the United States State of Missouri St. Louis University School of Medicine Liver Center, liver studies Prof. Dr. Brent A. continued with Tetri.

Prof. Başaranođlu has been working on the biology and treatment of “fatty liver and metabolic liver diseases” for more than 20 years. During this time, he has authored more than 100 peer-reviewed research articles published abroad. He has also published a book and a book chapter on fatty liver diseases in New York (in 2008 and 2009).

In addition to the editorial boards of scientific journals such as “Gastroenterology”, “Hepatology” and “American Journal of Gastroenterology”, he also takes part in the editorial boards.

He was awarded the Young Researcher Award from the American Liver Diseases Research Association twice (1998/2002) and once from the European Liver Society (2009).

Key areas of work are: Inflammatory Bowel Diseases (IBD), Chron's disease, chronic Ulcerative Colitis, non-alcoholic fatty liver disease/NAFLD, echoendoscopy (EUS), advanced endoscopy and i-scan (pentax), RF ablation for HCC, and Fibroscan .